REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

TO: Honorable Orlando Garcia
United States District Judge

This report and recommendation recommends dismissing this case under 28 U.S.C. § 1915 for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. On November 1, 2011, plaintiff Alan Uresti filed motions to proceed in forma pauperis<sup>1</sup> and for the appointment of counsel.<sup>6</sup> The district judge referred the motions to me. I screened the case under section 1915(e) and determined that the court lacks subject matter jurisdiction over Uresti's claims.

Dismissal under 28 U.S.C. § 1915. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1915, the court must screen an IFP complaint and dismiss the complaint if the court determines the complaint is frivolous or malicious or fails to state a claim on which relief may be granted.<sup>7</sup> This provision permits the court to dismiss those claims whose factual contentions are clearly baseless.<sup>8</sup> Dismissal of a claim as frivolous is appropriate where the claim lacks an arguable basis either in law or in fact.<sup>9</sup> Similarly, the "district court may dismiss an action on its own motion under Rule 12(b)(6) [of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure] 'as long as the procedure employed is fair.'"<sup>10</sup> Analyzing the merits of a plaintiff's claim in a report and recommendation and giving the plaintiff an opportunity to object to the recommendation is a fair process for dismissing a case.

<sup>10</sup>Bazrowx v. Scott, 136 F.3d 1053, 1054 (5th Cir. 1998) (citation omitted). See Carroll v. Fort James Corp., 470 F.3d 1171, 1177 (5th Cir. 2006) (explaining that the "district court may dismiss a complaint on its own for failure to state a claim" so long as a fair procedure is employed).

Nature of the case. Uresti's pleadings indicate he was trained as a barber or a hairdresser by defendant Amarillo College of Hairdressing, Inc. — a campus of defendant Milan Institute of Cosmetology. Defendant Rosario Reyes is an attorney who represented the mother of Uresti's son (JAU) in a state-court lawsuit involving the managing conservatorship of JAU. This lawsuit flowed from that proceeding.

In his proposed complaint, Uresti seeks to name the college, the institute and the institute's custodian of records, Douglas Dunn (together, Milan), as defendants and complain that Milan released his school records to Reyes. Uresti seeks to assert a civil rights claim for invasion of privacy and the denial of due process. He alleges that Reyes disclosed illegally attained information—his Milan school records—during the trial of his case and sabotaged his efforts to obtain custody of his son.<sup>11</sup> Uresti stated that Reyes obtained the records pursuant to a subpoena in a state-court case involving his other son (JRV).<sup>12</sup> Uresti alleges that Milan conspired with Reyes to provide his school records to derail his right to privacy.<sup>13</sup> Uresti also asserts a state cause of action for invasion of privacy. Uresti's proposed complaint shows the district court lacks subject matter jurisdiction over his claims.

cases alleging violations of federal constitutional rights.<sup>14</sup> Uresti seeks to sue the defendants for violating his civil rights. A plaintiff can bring a claim for a violation of his federal civil rights under 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

“To state a claim under § 1983, a plaintiff must allege the violation of a right secured by the Constitution and laws of the United States, and must show that the alleged deprivation was committed by a person acting under color of state law.”<sup>15</sup> “[T]he under-color-of-state-law element of [section] 1983 excludes from its reach ‘merely private conduct, no matter how discriminatory or wrongful.’”<sup>16</sup> “[S]tate employment is generally sufficient to render the defendant a state actor....”<sup>17</sup> for the purpose of section 1983.

Uresti did not name a state actor as a defendant. Uresti identified Reyes as “a lawyer and an officer of the Bexar County District Courts in Bexar County Texas.” Although Uresti characterized Reyes as an officer of a government entity—a state county—Uresti’s allegations show that Reyes is not a state actor. Instead, Reyes is a private attorney who represented JAU’s mother in the state-court lawsuit. Uresti identified the Milan defendants as private training programs. A private training program is not a state actor. Uresti identified Dunn as an employee of a private training program. Dunn is not a state actor. Without a state actor, Uresti's civil rights claim fails to state a claim because no basis exists for subject matter jurisdiction.

A federal court also has jurisdiction over controversies involving disputes between citizens of different states where the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000.00.<sup>18</sup> Uresti's proposed complaint shows diversity of citizenship does not exist. Diversity of citizenship exists when no plaintiff is a citizen of the same state as any defendant.<sup>19</sup> Uresti stated that he is a citizen of Texas and alleged that Milan employee Dunn resides in Texas. These allegations show that complete diversity does not exist because plaintiff Uresti is a citizen of the same state as defendant Dunn. Without diversity of citizenship, the court lacks jurisdiction over Uresti's state-law claim. In the absence of a basis for federal court jurisdiction, this case fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted.

Uresti's litigation history. Uresti has a protracted litigation history flowing from state-court lawsuits involving managing conservatorship of his sons. Uresti twice petitioned for writs of mandamus and once petitioned for habeas relief in state-court Cause No. 95-CI-13445. That proceeding involved JRV. Uresti complained about orders signed by state-court judges Andy Mireles, Janet Littlejohn, Martha Tanner, Richard E.

Price, Delia E. Carian, Karen Pozza, and Antonia Artega. The Fourth Court of Appeals denied the petitions with memorandum opinions.<sup>20</sup>

In the state-court lawsuit underlying this lawsuit, Uresti tried to subpoena state-court judges Sol Casseb III, Rene McElhaney, Peter Sakai, and Marialyn Barnard. The state court quashed the subpoenas.<sup>21</sup> Uresti also petitioned for a writ of mandamus in that lawsuit<sup>22</sup> and complained about judges Casseb and Sakai. The Fourth Court of Appeals denied the petition.

Uresti appealed the judgment. The state court of appeals dismissed the appeal for failure to prosecute, stating that the record showed Uresti was not indigent and that Uresti failed to pay for preparation of the clerk's record.<sup>23</sup> Uresti also petitioned for review from the Supreme Court of Texas and challenged orders entered by judges Casseb and Sakai. Uresti complained in his petition that he moved to recuse judges Casseb and Sakai and asserted that orders entered in the underlying lawsuit were void.

Uresti sued state-court judge Michael Peden and defendant-attorney Reyes in state-court Cause No. 2009-CI-15887. The state court entered summary judgment in favor of Judge Peden and Reyes.<sup>24</sup>

On August 30, 2011, Uresti sued attorney Chance L. Heinsohn for legal malpractice in Cause No. 2011-CI-14152. That case is pending in the 438th Judicial District Court, Bexar County. Uresti complained to the Texas State Commission on Judicial conduct about communications between Reyes and Judge Littlejohn.

Uresti's litigation history indicates Uresti may continue to pursue litigation aimed at judges and attorneys associated with his efforts to obtain conservatorship of his sons in federal court. Because Uresti may not understand the consequences of pursuing frivolous and/or harassing litigation in federal court, I recommend warning Uresti under Rule 11.

Recommendation. Because the court lacks subject matter jurisdiction over Uresti's claims, I recommend dismissing this case under section 1915(e). If the court accepts this recommendation, Uresti's motion to proceed IFP (docket entry # 1) and motion for appointment (docket entry # 2) will be moot.

I also recommend warning Uresti under Rule 11.<sup>25</sup> That rule permits the district court to sanction a litigant who violates the rule. Although this case is Uresti's first effort to litigate in federal court, his state-court filings support a Rule 11 warning. I recommend directing Uresti to read Rule 11 and advising Uresti that the court may sanction a litigant who violates Rule 11.

PER CURIAM

DISMISSED

The clerk's record was due on December 1, 2010, and has not been filed. On December 6, 2010, the trial court clerk filed a notification of late record stating that appellant had failed to pay or make arrangements to pay the clerk's fee for preparing the clerk's record, and appellant is not entitled to appeal without paying the fee. On December 21, 2010, this court ordered appellant to show cause in writing by January 3, 2011, why this appeal should not be dismissed for want of prosecution. Appellant responded by filing a pro se motion requesting reconsideration of the court's show cause order; appellant asserts he is indigent, and requests that the clerk's record and reporter's record be filed in this court without the need for payment. On January 7, 2011, a certified copy of the trial court's "Order Sustaining Contests to Affidavit of Inability to Pay Costs on Appeal Filed by Alan Uresti and Ordering Alan Uresti to Pay All Costs of Appeal" was filed in this court. Because the record shows the appellant is not indigent and has failed to pay for preparation of the clerk's record, the appeal is dismissed for want of prosecution. See TEX. R. APP. P. 37.3(b). Costs of the appeal are taxed against appellant.
